

Tony Feher featured in group exhibition at Von Lintel Gallery

Tony Feher is featured in "The Innerworld of the Outerworld of the Innerworld," a group exhibition at Von Lintel Gallery in New York, NY. The exhibition is on view November 20, 2008 through January 24, 2009.

From Von Lintel Gallery's website:

"Von Lintel Gallery is pleased to present a group exhibition curated by artist Marco Breuer titled The Innerworld of the Outerworld of the Innerworld. The exhibition takes its title from a 1967 poem by Austrian writer Peter Handke. For his most recent curatorial venture, Breuer has brought together the work of Nancy Cohen, Tim Davis, Tony Feher, Julian Kreimer, Fawn Krieger, Marguerite Kahrl, and James Hegge, a group of artists who engage in a dialogue between interior and exterior worlds, beyond simple duality.

Many of the works in the exhibition are fragments, open possibilities. The attitude is one of questioning, the formal framework often temporary. The work conveys doubt and acknowledges complexities of the world around and within us: the possibility of the simultaneous existence of a state and its opposite. These artists reject simplistic reduction: art is not illustration. Illustration is illustration. For the artists in this exhibition art constitutes a process of searching: an incremental procedure, tentative, requiring the recognition and often the embrace of glaring contradictions."

Tony Feher
(Reach) 2007
metal stand, metal tube, bamboo stick,
plastic drinking straws
117 x 19 x 19 inches 297.2 x 48.3 x 48.3 cm